100% kid approved! Once you introduce the Vema Frog Swing, your children will be asking for it at every session! This swing has a shock and bungee system that allows for it to move comfortably in all planes of movement- up and down, side to side, and back to front.

Movement in each plane processes in different areas of the brain, which makes this swing a great vestibular resource for targeting all different sensory needs. In sitting, standing or crouching, the bar on top adds great heavy work for seekers. In prone, the very narrow seat poses a fantastic strengthening challenge for children who can maintain postural control in motion. The small base of support will make children work on core, neck, upper body and ocular motor control in order to keep their balance.
